You're the sage! According to Carl Jung, the sage represents wisdom and the search for truth. You are wise beyond your years, patient and a deep thinker. You're driven by a thirst for knowledge. One of your greatest fears is being ignorant, misled, or duped. You're incredibly intelligent but you risk over analyzing until you're incapable of actually making a decision. You're an old soul and wise beyond your years, but Jung would tell you don't get lost in the clouds!

Which Jung Archetype Best Describes You?

Carl Jung, the famous Swiss psychologist and philosopher, believed that we all channel unconscious archetypes that deeply effect our behavior. We find these archetypes in myths, fairy tales, and even within ourselves! Are you the explorer...

The Bajau of Malaysia fish and dive for almost everything they eat. Year – round they live in houses on the beach or on stilts; others have no homes but their boats.
Her face dusted in "bedak sejuk", a cooling powder made of rice and "pandan leaes"
The "badjau" are found in Sabah, Malaysia, and similarly in the Sulu archipelago. Note: the words are very related to the Filipino language. The houses on the stilt in the New Orleans Bayou were captured my Lafcadio Hearn on the Harper's Weekly Magazine on March 30, 1883. The 13 houses on the stilts were constructed in similar fashion; I have been calling it the original 13 © Matthieu Paley — with Chris Sundita and 4 others.
